I can really tell the app was created by someone who understands the challenge.

It has already saved mea lot of googling.

- Camilla, User

There is so much vague information out there, so the kind of evidence-based info that you offer is really needed.

I like that you treat readers as intelligent people and trust us to draw conclusions based on our own situation.

Thank you for everything you do!

- Niki, User

I completely agree that current care fails to address the psychological aspect of infertility, and I find your app very pedagogic.

I will recommend it to my patients.
