From the numbering on the outside and inside of the boxes, yes once you discard the lid you still know which box is which, to the perfect engineering fit and quality these are fantastic.

Everything you hate about IKEA these guys have thought about. Open the box and the first part you need is on the top, not buried somewhere deep. The fittings just work, the finish is fantastic, so silly tools to screw it together and it all just fits.

The manual, oh wow! Made not as a generic manual but made for my piece of furniture. Specific, pictures are of my item. Everything is numbered with stickers that just peel off.

Do you think I like what arrived this morning and was screwed to the wall in just a couple of hours? You are right, I love it.
