UNIQUE IN GERMANY

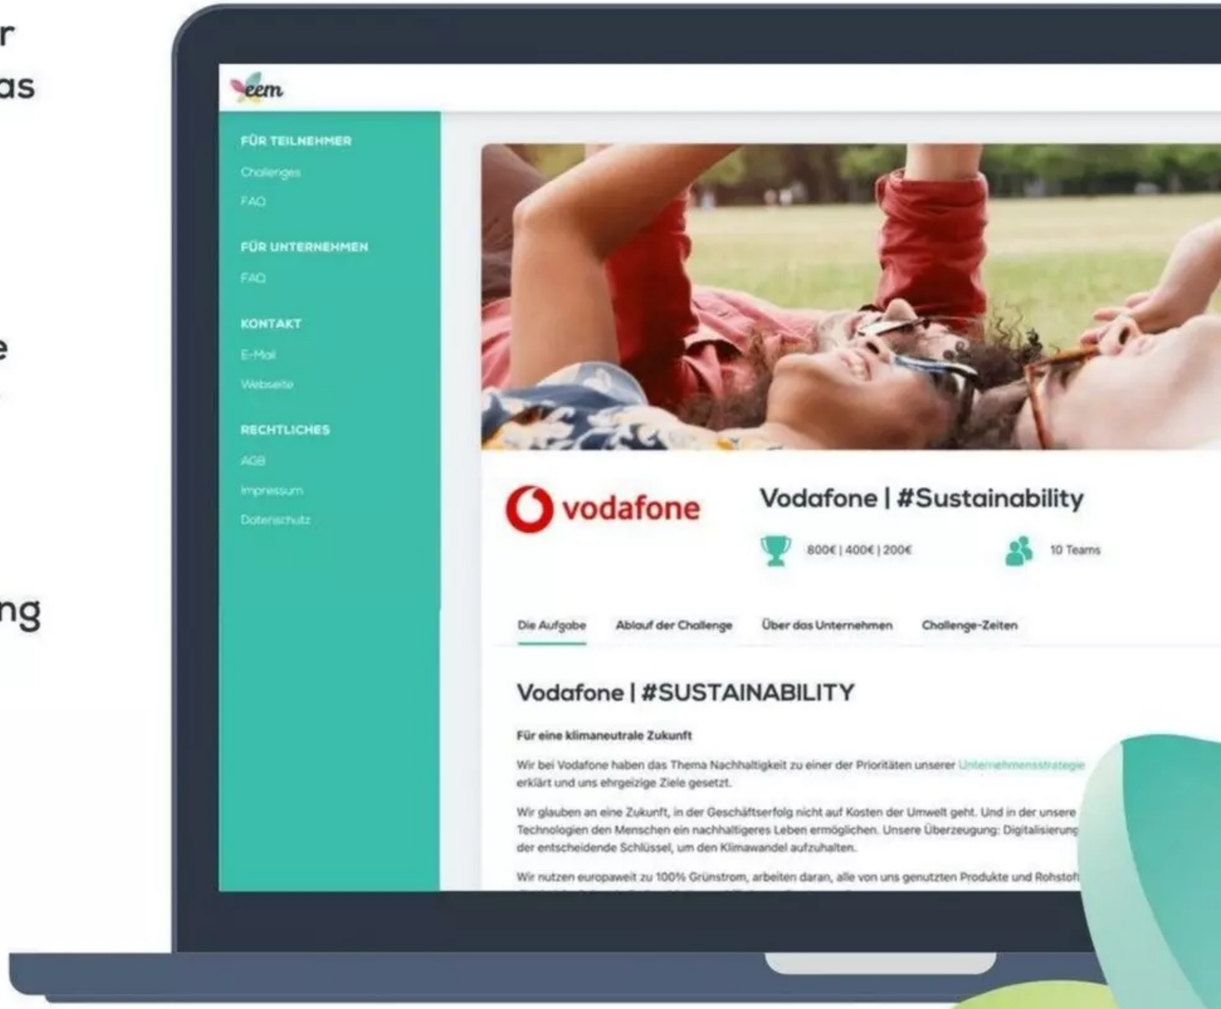

IT'S THAT SIMPLE

Step 1:
Together we analyse the key challenges and opportunities for your company and determine the questions for your challenge, as well as the number of teams and prizes for the teams.
You already have a Challenge topic? All the better!

Step 2:
You will receive versatile marketing materials and we will promote the Challenge after your approval via various online channels, our community and via targeted crowdsourcing.

Step 3:
From an individual landing page in your corporate design, the young talents can now take part in your challenge.

Step 4:
After the end of the challenge phase, you will receive the ideas and the contact details of the participants and determine the winning teams.
Optionally, we can organise a live pitch event for you.

THE OUTPUT OF A CHALLENGE

Creative and innovative ideas of high quality in a short time only

- Innovative concepts
- Ideas tailored to target groups
- Marketing strategies
- Mockups
- Advertising slogans
- Sketches or storyboards
- Live pitches: talents present the results online to the company

FRESH IDEAS & EXCLUSIVE ACCESS TO TALENTS

"For us, direct contact and exchange at eye level with our target groups is particularly important. With Xeem, we were able to find out what requirements and wishes students and graduates have for a career site, actually discuss ideas and concepts and thereby strategically integrate them into our employer branding measures."

OUR CUSTOMERS ARE THRILLED

COMMERZ BUSINESS CONSULTING
Commerzbank Gruppe

Britta Gayko | Managing Partner & Co-Founder

Connecting young talents with businesses and shaping the future together is the purpose of Xeem's founders. This is exactly what fits the spirit and the team of our company - Commerz Business Consulting. Together we initiated the challenge "How to Love a Bank" and together we tried out a lot about Open Innovation as an inspiring instrument of co-creation with (young) customers. Creative ideas, exciting dialogues and new impulses have emerged - the true customer needs are captured. A big thank you to Xeem. We were thrilled by your professionalism and high level of commitment.

ZENTIS 1893

Norbert Weichele | Managing Director Zentis GmbH & Co. KG

We organised a challenge with Xeem and received valuable input on a strategically important topic for Zentis, as well as getting to know great new talents. The cooperation with Xeem was pleasant, very customer-oriented and agile for us.

YOUNG TALENTS ARE THRILLED

Sophie Schmidt | 27, Student from Mainz

Xeem is a great opportunity to work on exciting challenges and gain valuable practical experience in a very short time. I took part in Merck's last challenge and am still positively impressed by how easy it was to work together in the team, even though we didn't know each other beforehand. Working in a group was very pleasant and it is really practical that the document can be worked on by all team members in parallel. At the same time, you come into contact with international companies, which is immeasurably valuable, especially for students.

I am already looking forward to taking part in further challenges.

Niklas Sprenger | 24, Student from Jena

I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you. The platform works really smoothly and what you offer is just great!
The challenges are all very diverse, that you always have a wide range of challenges in different areas.
I have already taken part in a few challenges and actually won the Merck KGaA Challenge! Just like that, €333 more in my account for two hours of work, during which I also developed personally and was able to learn from my team members. So cool! Really!
