test IO

CHALLENGES FACED

test IO, now part of EPAM, is a global leader in software crowd testing. With a focus on generating qualified meetings with senior decision-makers and building opportunity pipeline, the SDR and Marketing team previously used direct mail and gifting to cut through the noise.

The process was manual and time-consuming, taking over 4 weeks per campaign to execute. Campaigns became outdated due to the time it took to roll out as items were packed manually in the test IO offices. This also meant prospecting time was reduced. SDRs couldn't track when packages arrived in real-time, which meant following up in a timely manner wasn't possible.

"A STREAMLINED SOLUTION"

test IO needed a tool to create a scalable and streamlined DM strategy allowing SDRs to incorporate the physical channel into their outbound efforts and report on the ROI and success of campaigns. Reachdesk has enabled test IO to add DM to their Outreach sequences so that hyper personalised sends can be made within their Sales Engagement platform. ROI can also be measured in test IO's Salesforce CRM.

Covid -19 Impacts

- Some pipeline accelerated, some pipeline slowed down, some no impact
- New Opportunities have emerged:
    - Companies are trying to replace cancelled event pipeline hole
    - Companies are trying to drive attendance, reward attendance and follow-up on online events
    - HR wants to engage remote employees
    - Planning for the day - welcome back to the office campaigns
    - Trying to keep existing customers engaged, many business strategies have changed to focus more on upsell and renewal execution
- New Product Trends:
    - Uber Eats eGift Cards
    - Address Confirmation Landing Experience
    - Donate to Charity eGift Card Experience

Digital Engagement

Hi Kostas,

Looking forward to speaking later. Here's a coffee to enjoy during the call, or perhaps save it for another time...
My colleague Alex will be joining on the call, please let me know if you have any questions.

Kind Regards,
Ben
