Customer Education is rapidly changing

Disruption	Prioritization	Recognition	Transition	Utilization
Customers being challenged to quickly adapt to the new situations	Organizations prioritizing customer reach over revenue	Education is a vital channel for engaging existing customers	Training delivery moving from in-person to Virtual	Individuals are embracing online learning as a necessity

Skilljar's Customer Education Platform is purpose-built for external audiences to improve product adoption and customer retention

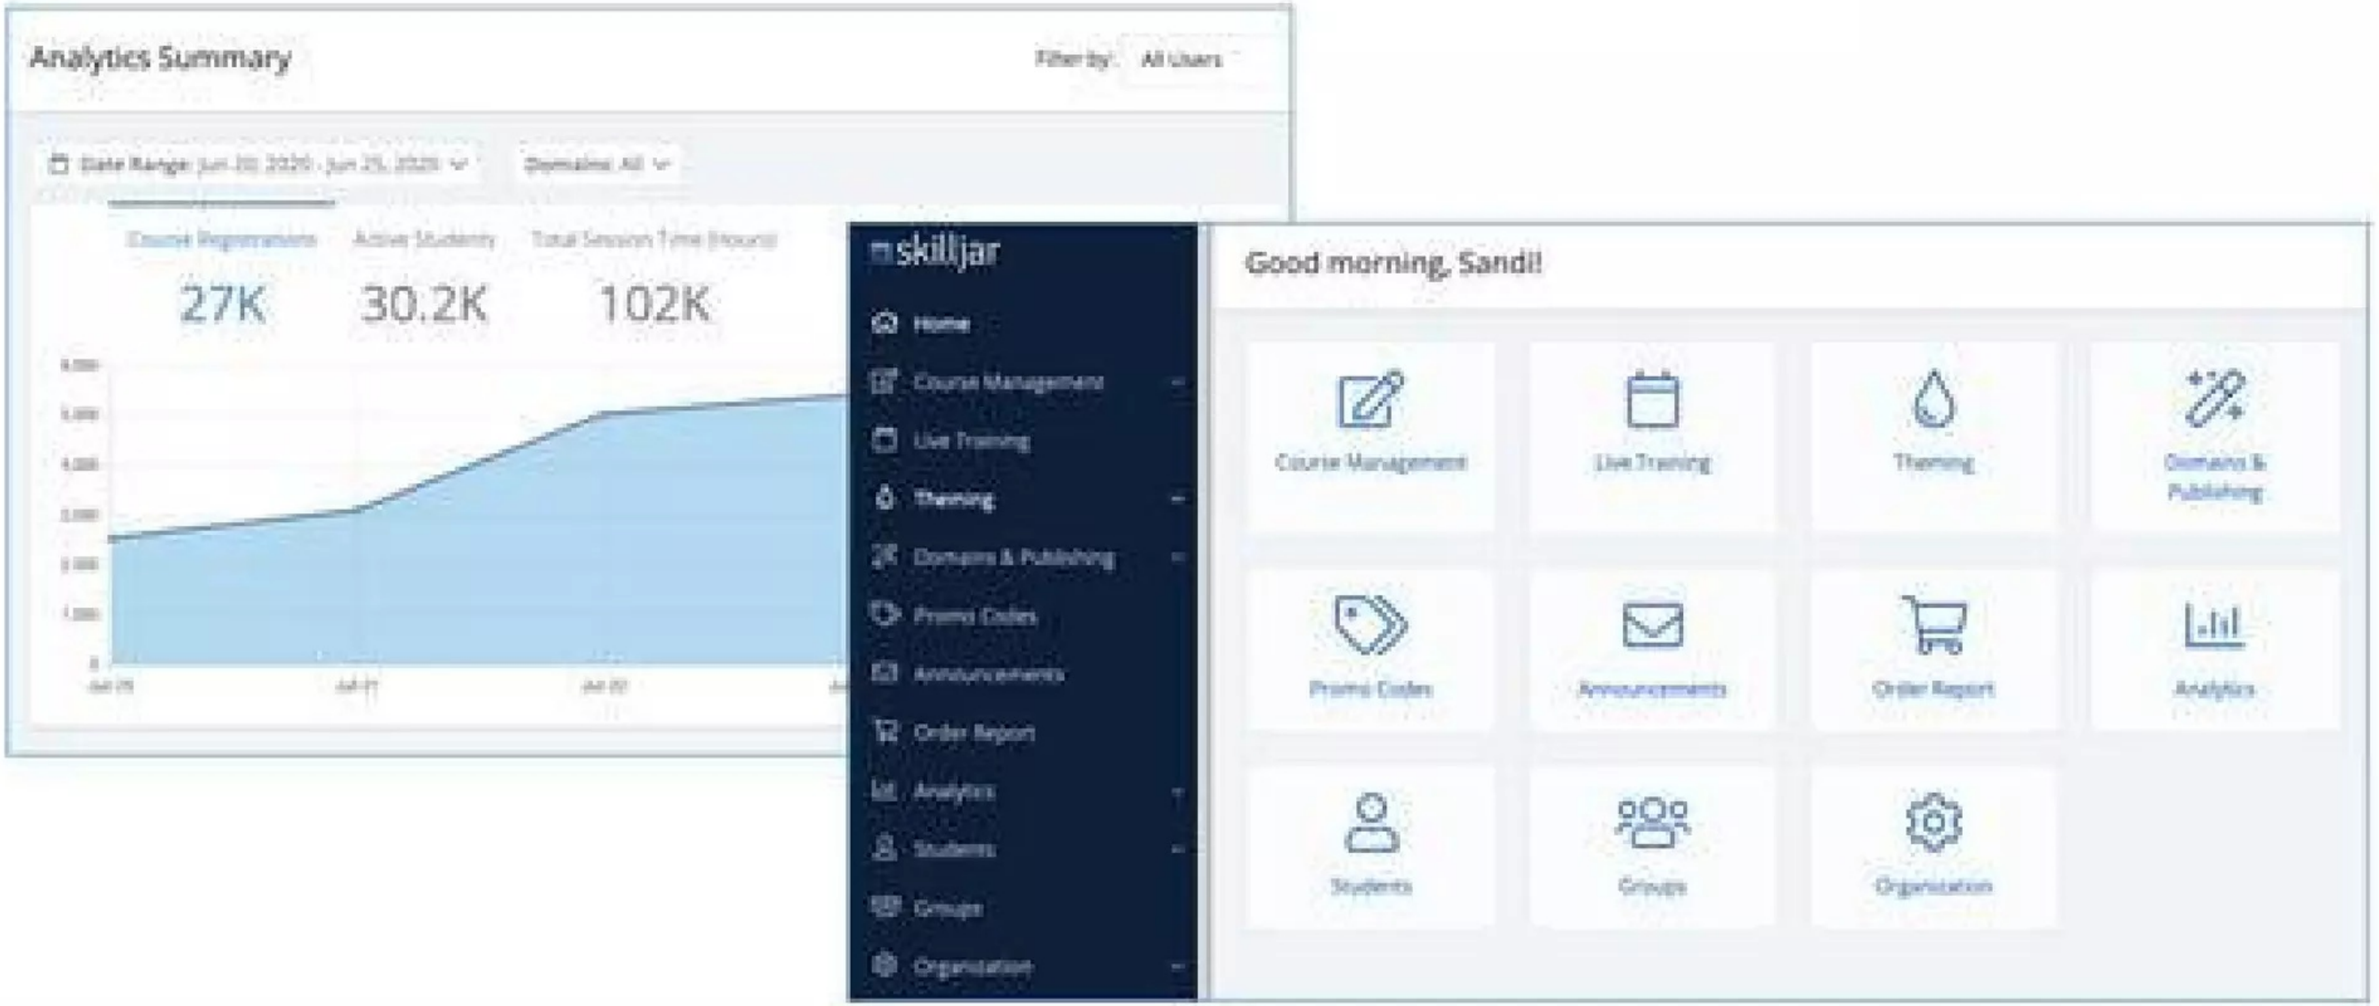

= Differentiated from HR Learning Systems

Discovery & Commerce - personalized catalogs, browse and search, subscription and bundle packages, monetization

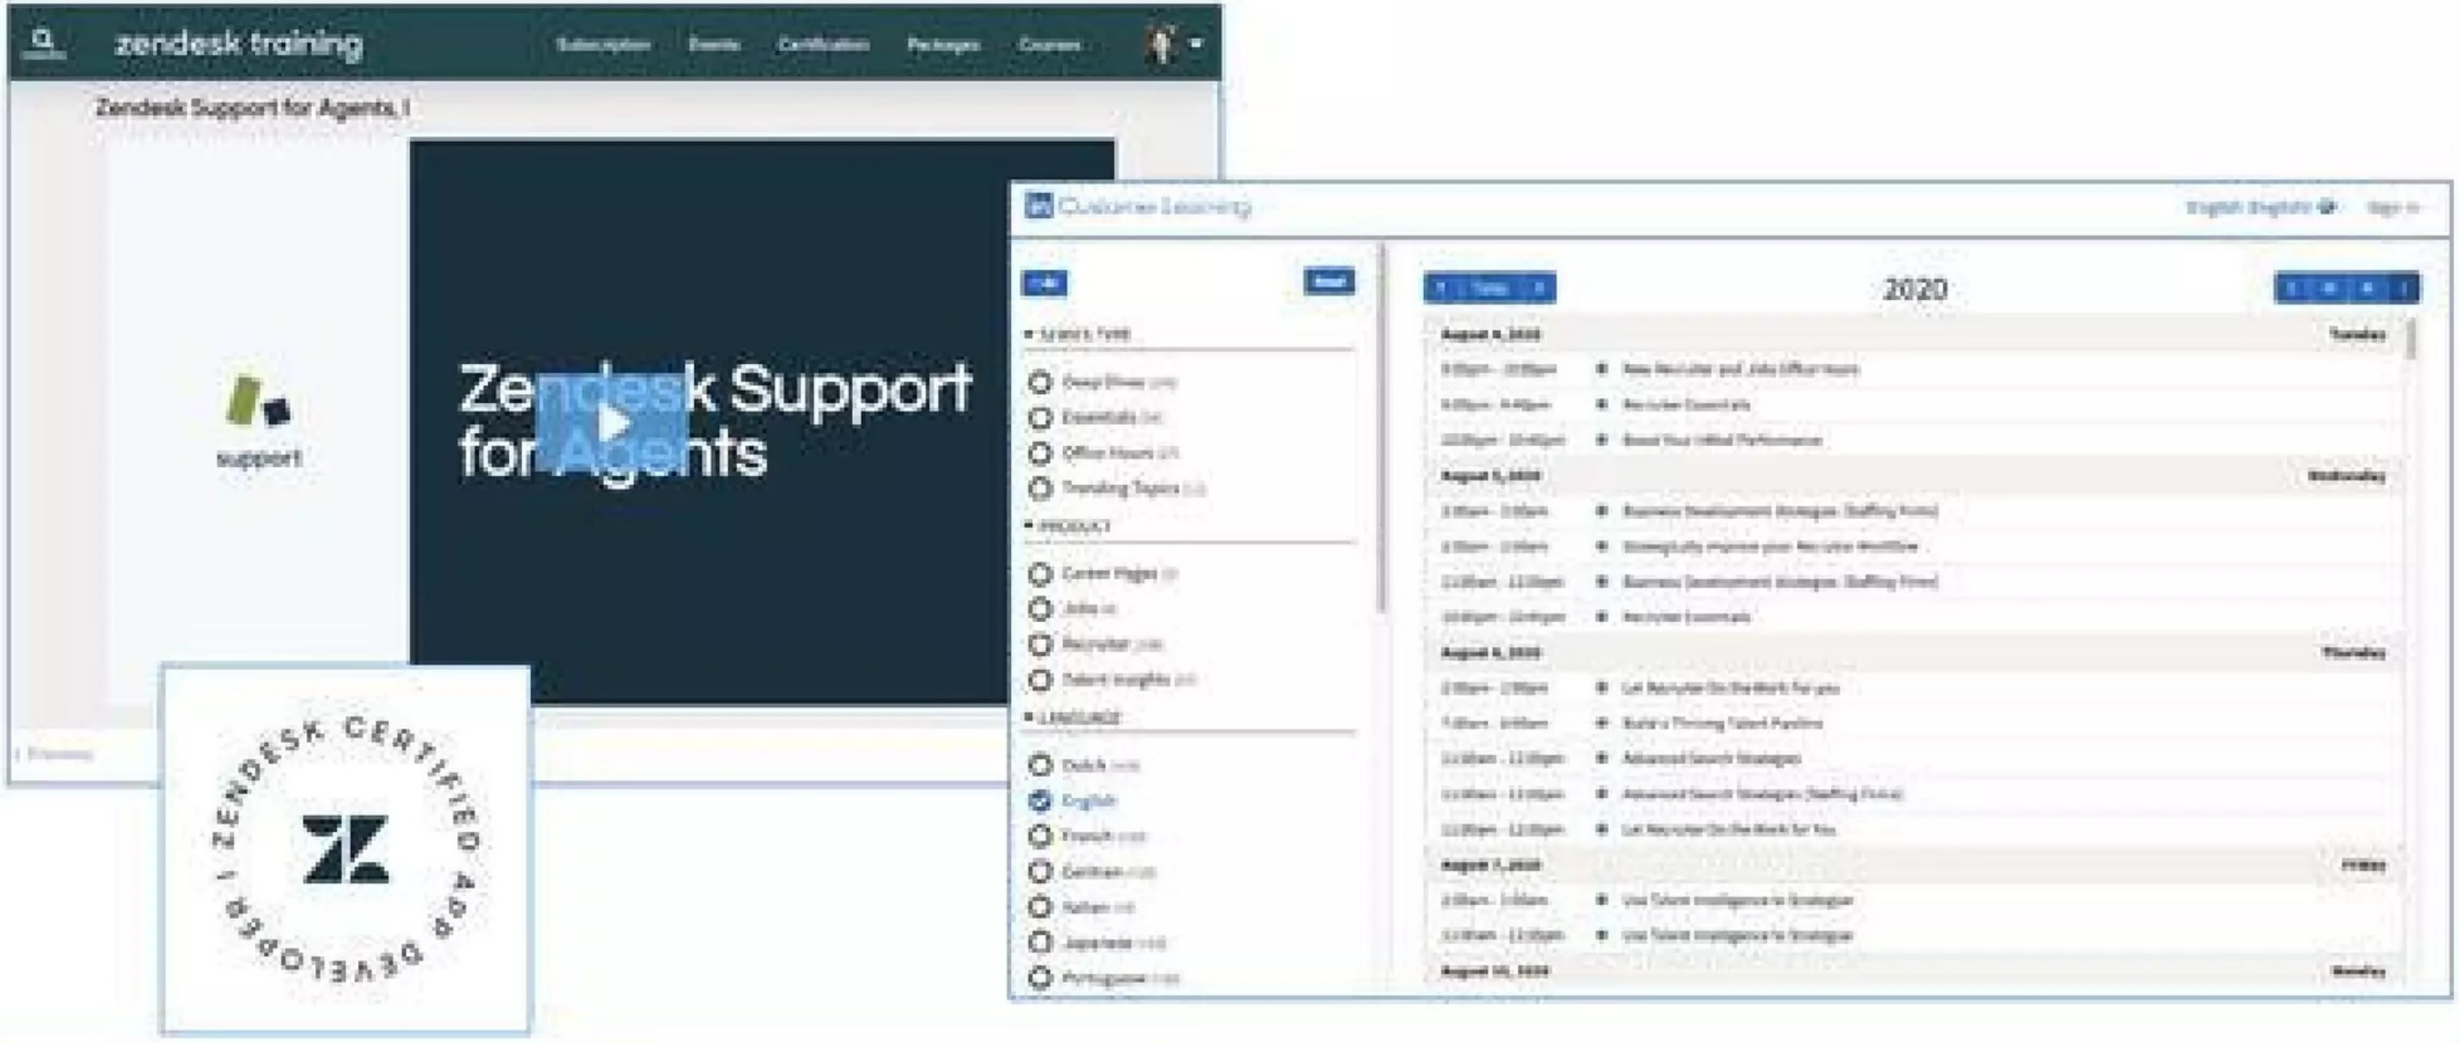

Admin Experience – content management, program management, learning analytics, user engagement

Learning Experience – self-paced and instructor-led capabilities, multimedia content support, social certifications

Skilljar dramatically improves business outcomes throughout the entire customer lifecycle
