We live in an age of zero patience

And endless expectations

But somehow,
we still use email
to communicate.

The same email invented over 50 years ago (!!!) and hasn't changed much since.

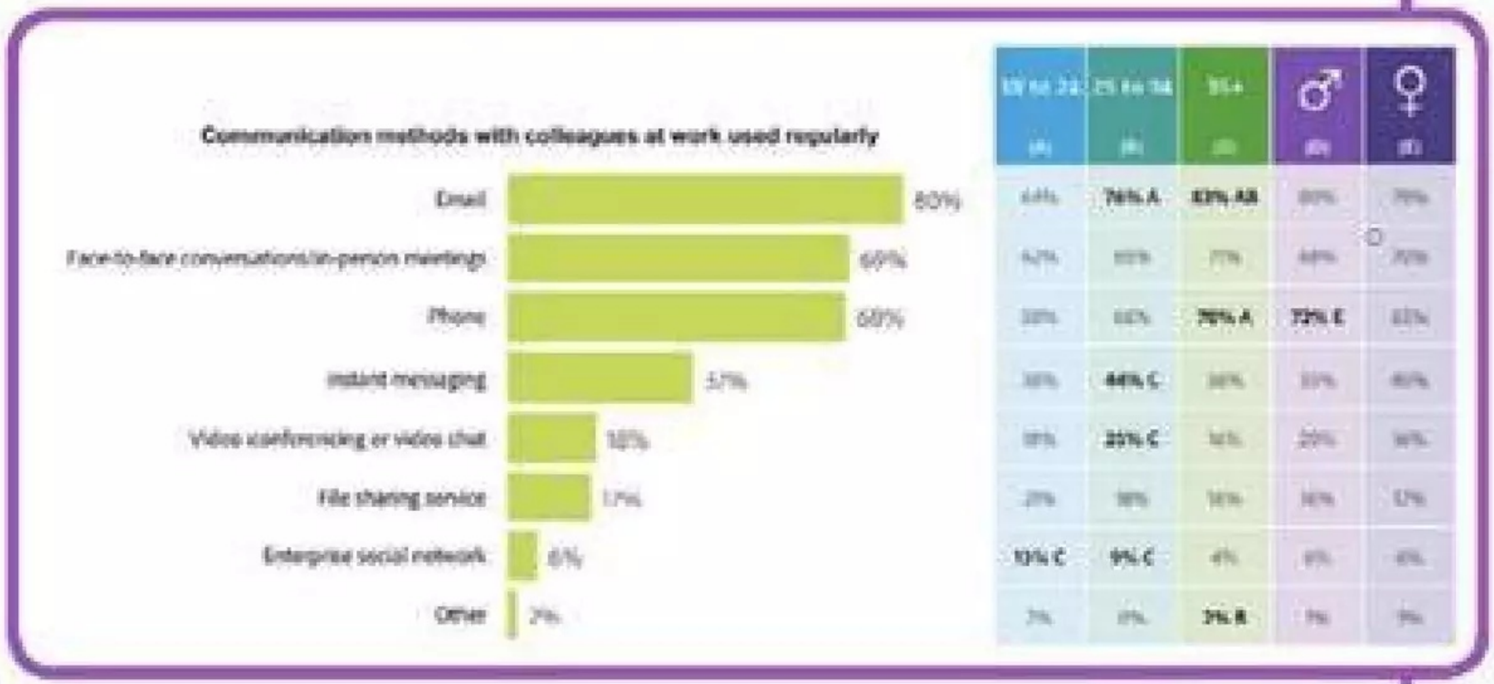

spike

And yet...

Email is the most commonly used method for communicating

The company that could kill off email

LIKE the cockroach, email will never quite die. But these failed video game developers may come the closest to killing it off for good.

WILL FACEBOOK MESSENGER KILL EMAIL?

Slack is killing email

The founder of Flickr built a chat app that might save your workplace sanity

By all counts, email should already be dead...

Sure, there are other silo productivity platforms

- Mission critical Silos: Calendar, ToDo / Task Managers, Project Managers, Email Marketing, CRMs (everybody needs them)*

- Closed networks silos: Messaging, Slack, Social, iMessage (everybody loves them)*

...Still, productivity tools are highly fragmented and cater for the old paradigm!

But as much as we love messaging, they only add to our multiple platform confusion (so much for productivity...)

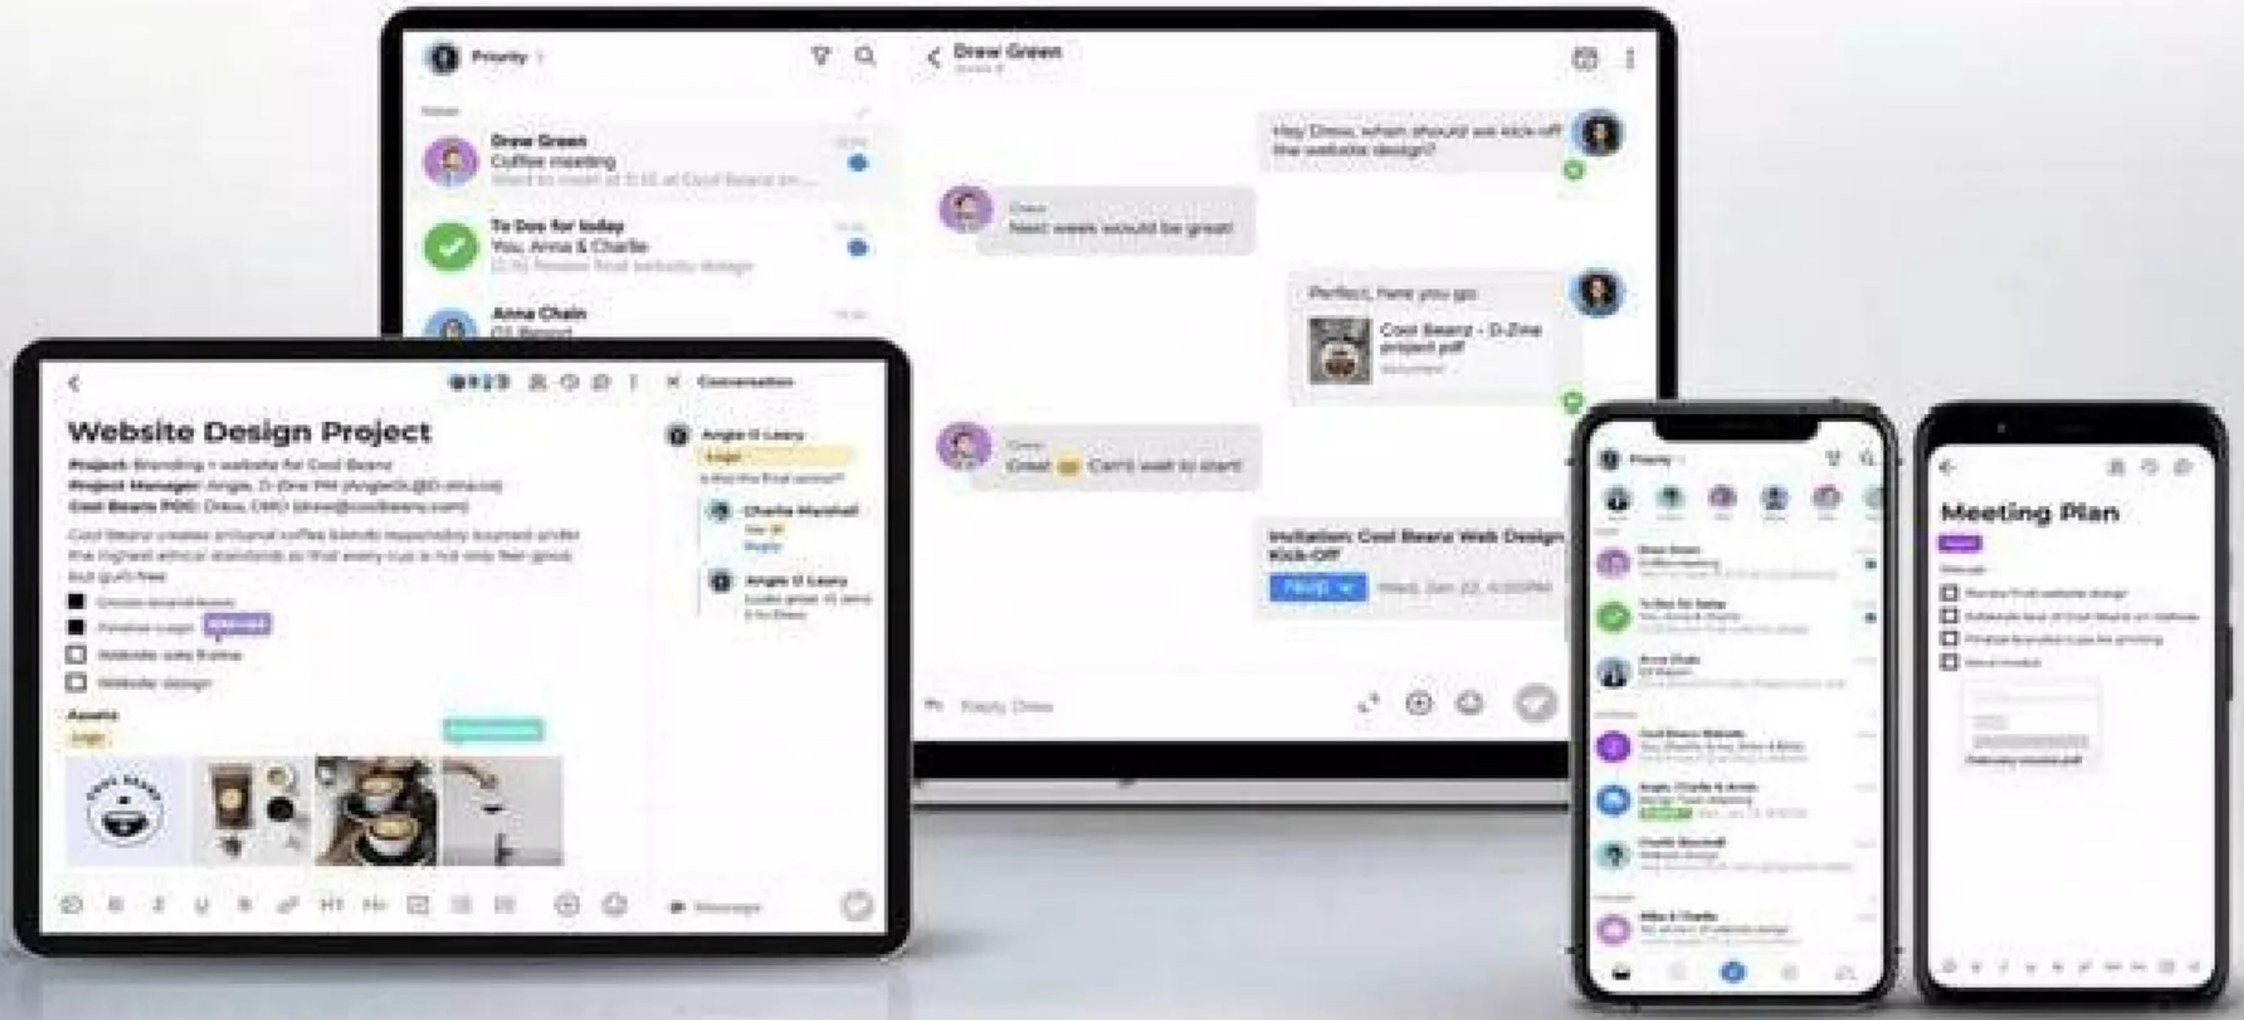

spike

What if we could reinvent email and combine everything we love with everything we need?

spike

Spike will own the entire modern workspace category stack.

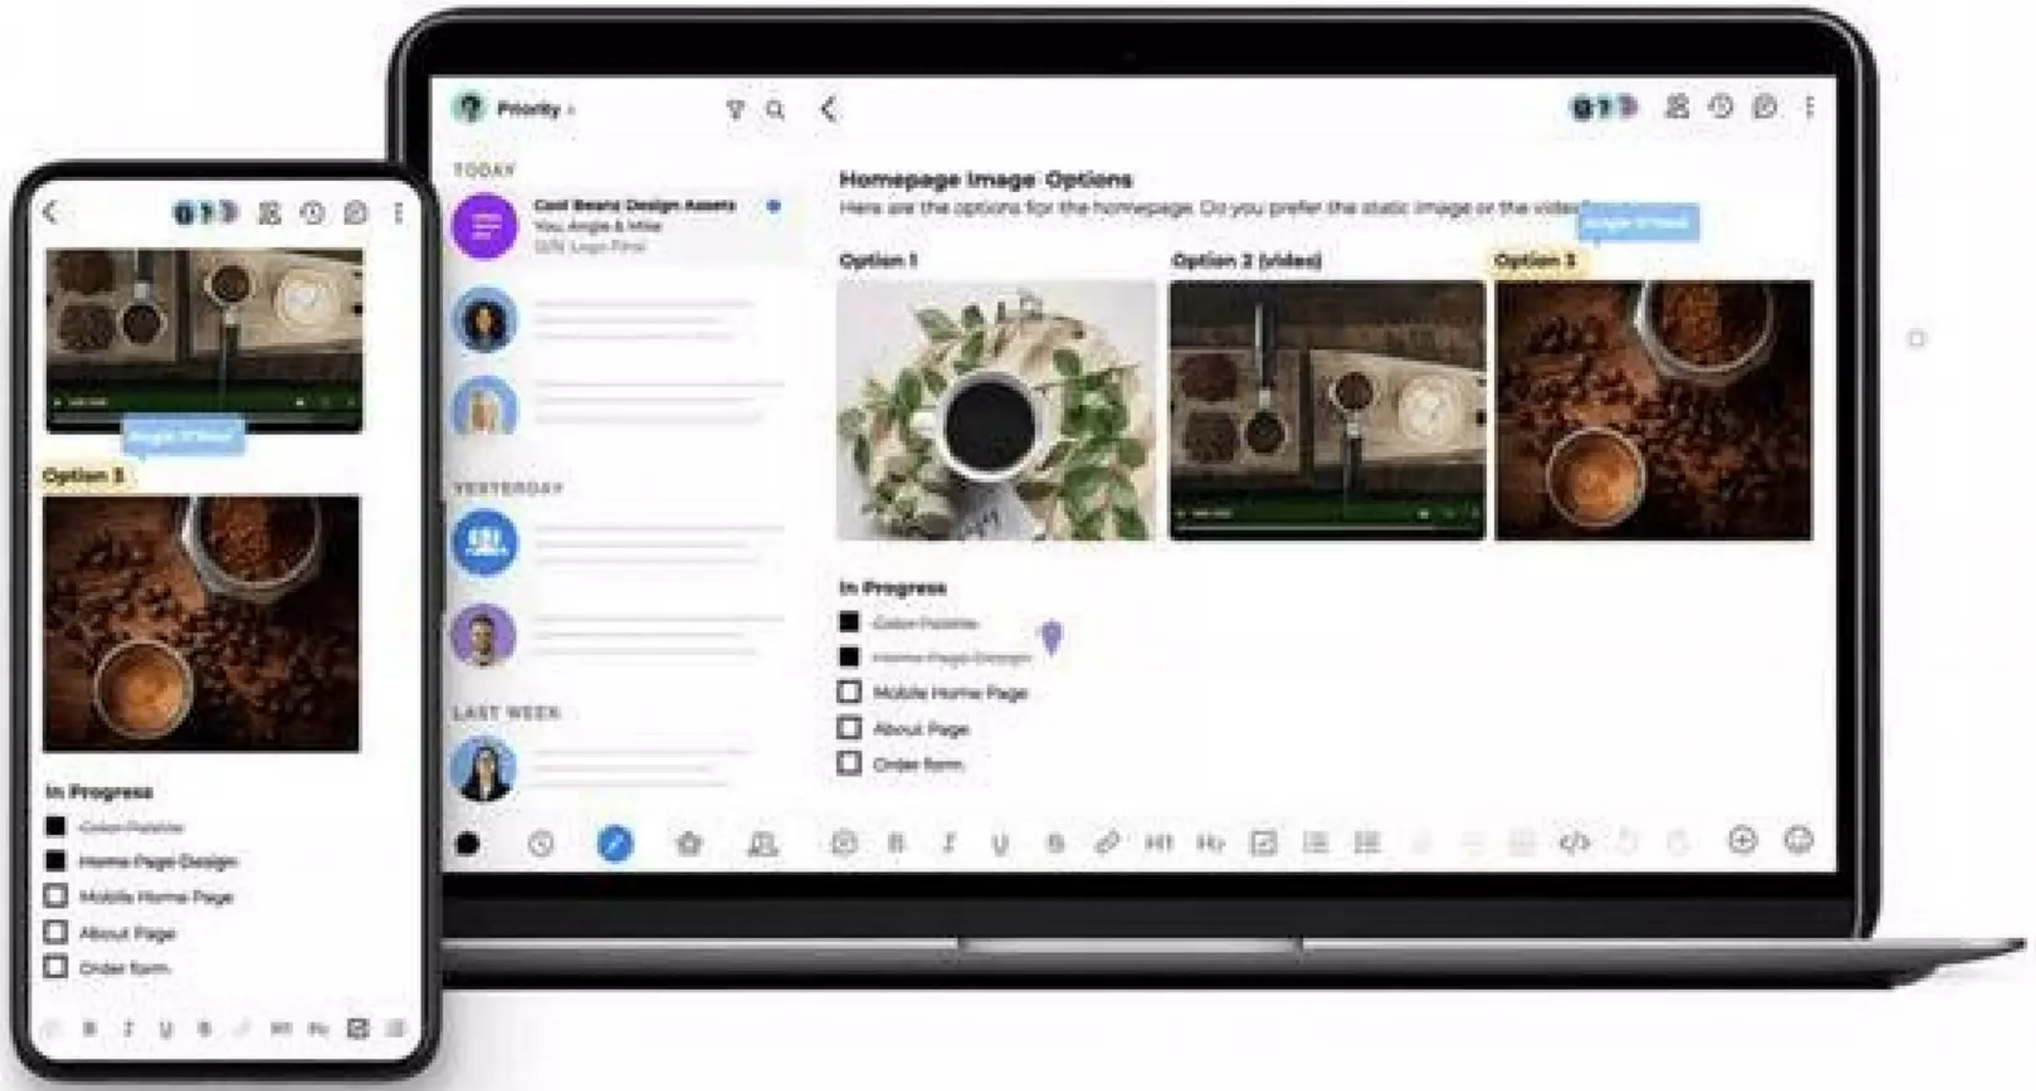

Spike enables real conversations

If instant messaging can do it, why not email?

Who thought email could do it all? We did!

Spike is ideal for :

- Micro-businesses
- Freelancers
- SMBs (1-10 employees)
- Consumers
- Millennials who are used to IMs
- Diversity of industries and teams
- Diversity of use-cases

Small businesses need an efficient and open communication tool to help them save time while growing their businesses.

Great experience. Takes email where email has never gone before!

Best email I've ever used, and I've used them all. I get 10,000 emails for work per day, and some of these emails require me to actually respond in some fashion. This app makes it incredibly easy to quickly respond to people and to easily see their responses to me (without having to scroll for 6 years through quoted messages). It also actually triages my email so I'm not bothered by notifications from non-urgent senders. Makes email 95% less painful for me. Keep up the great work!

THE BEST EMAIL APP Apr 17
★★★★★ Leo',

I never write reviews but this app is awesome. Every feature you want in an email app. I don't dread opening my email anymore. I also use it on my laptop.

Wonderful. This email client is really revolutionary. You have brought "fun" back to email, besides productivity. Really impressive. Thank you.

This email app makes everything less congested and easier to use than any app I've used before. Everything is stream lined and you can preview files you normally couldn't see with Gmail or Outlook.

Best email app that I have used since ever! Great product! Will buy if this is a paid version! Really nice job!

Love it! Feb 15

I didn't know email would be so easy and natural. Thank you for all the hard work that went into this. I absolutely love the app and look forward to any future updates. Besides the clarity of seeing focused emails and messages like a chat, my favorite feature is the "archive all" and easy unsubscribe or block and delete all. So freaking handy!

Brevity and Organization Apr 24

Best email/Calendar/Organizational tool I've used to date. Not one complaint thus far. Most organized my email has ever been, and best app/tool that allows to get through your email in the quickest amount of time. Read what's important and siphon through the rest "other as classified" of the crap with quickness.

This app allows you to follow threads visually in an easy fashion - it helps us not to miss e-mails and see the whole of an interaction as a conversation. Love it and recommend it.
