KEY PROBLEMS

HIGH COSTS

Managing employees in Excel files and email takes up to 60% of the time of the HR team. This is mainly admin work of low added value and high cost that requires expensive data entry.

POOR EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE

Employees demand a consumer-like experience. The lack of it at work negatively impacts the company, making it more difficult to attract and retain talent.

POOR COMMUNICATION

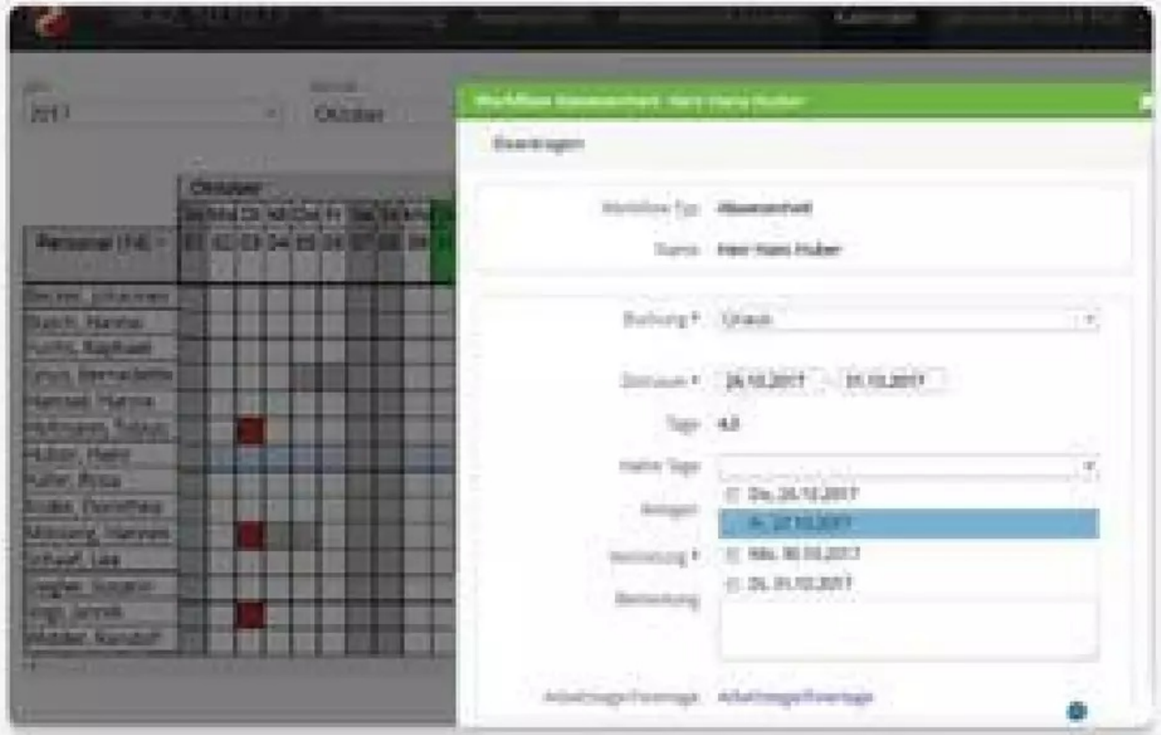

The lack of a digital tool for planning and managing time leads to undesired overlap in holidays which can impact clients and internal projects. Poor control of holidays and sickness ends up with companies giving away free holidays or missing insurance claims when employees are sick.

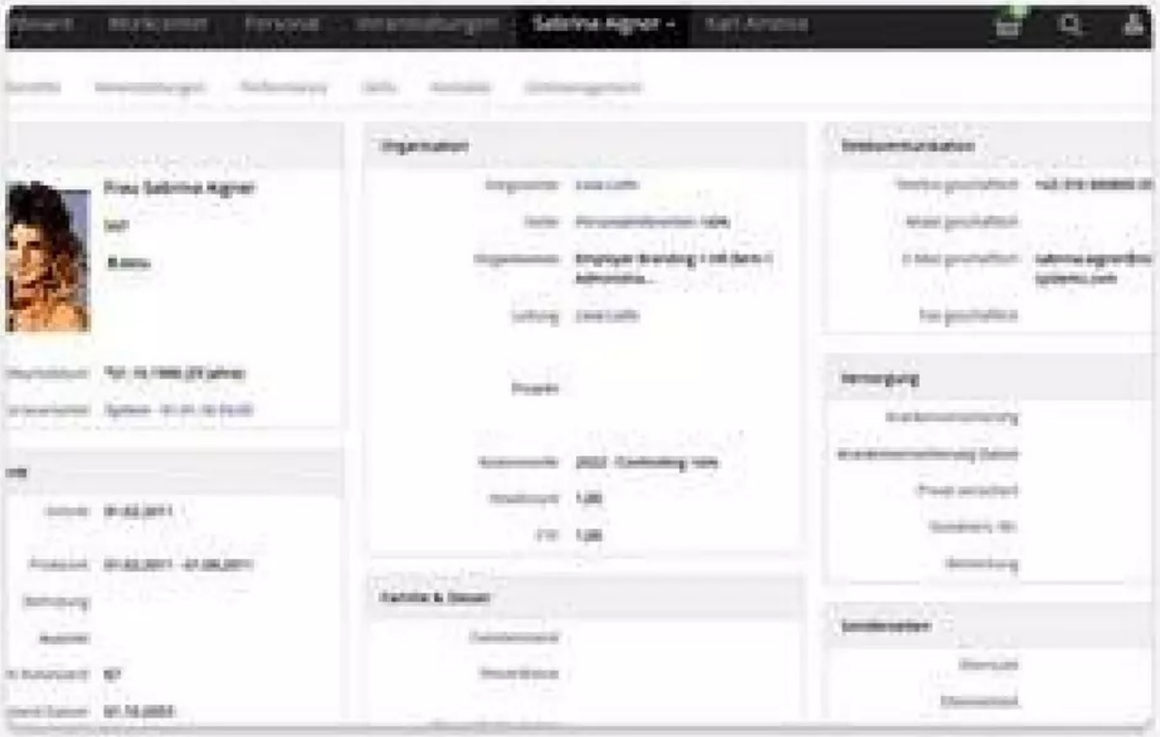

POOR PERFORMANCE

High engagement increases employee productivity by 21% on average. Engagement is hard to measure and analyse without the right tools and most companies don't go beyond one annual survey or they don't manage employee engagement at all.

KENJO

Outdated HR software doesn't cut it

With interfaces and technology from the 90's, the "solution" becomes even worse than the actual problem due to more complexity and manual workload.
