To date, we've helped salespeople, and the teams that enable them, leverage competitive intelligence to win more business.

Think of everything companies are doing right now.

Responding to crisis.
Hiring and firing talent.
Winning clients.
Losing clients.
Offering discounts.
Refining messaging.
Launching new products.
Getting investment.
Adding services.
Acquiring.
Setting growth targets.
Exceeding quota.
Partnering.
Speaking at conferences.
Responding to customer complaints.
Pushing case studies.
Advertising.

So are their competitors.

Why Now?

Growing Market Forces

Competition is increasing across every category

Explosion of digital footprints

Companies disrupted faster

Prospects and 10x more educated about their market and choices, often know more about competitors than your salespeople do.

Machine Learning and API's = data and curation increasingly accessible

Clunky Process Inside Companies Today

Collection & Curation is slow, inefficient and incomplete. Intel scattered across web + internal systems

Consumption = another deck

Intel buried in 30 page decks on sharepoint.
Foxhunt for answers. Often out of date.
Duplicative "who has info on.." chats.

Results in lost deals, churn to competition and internal friction
