

nanno

connecting parents with great sitters on demand

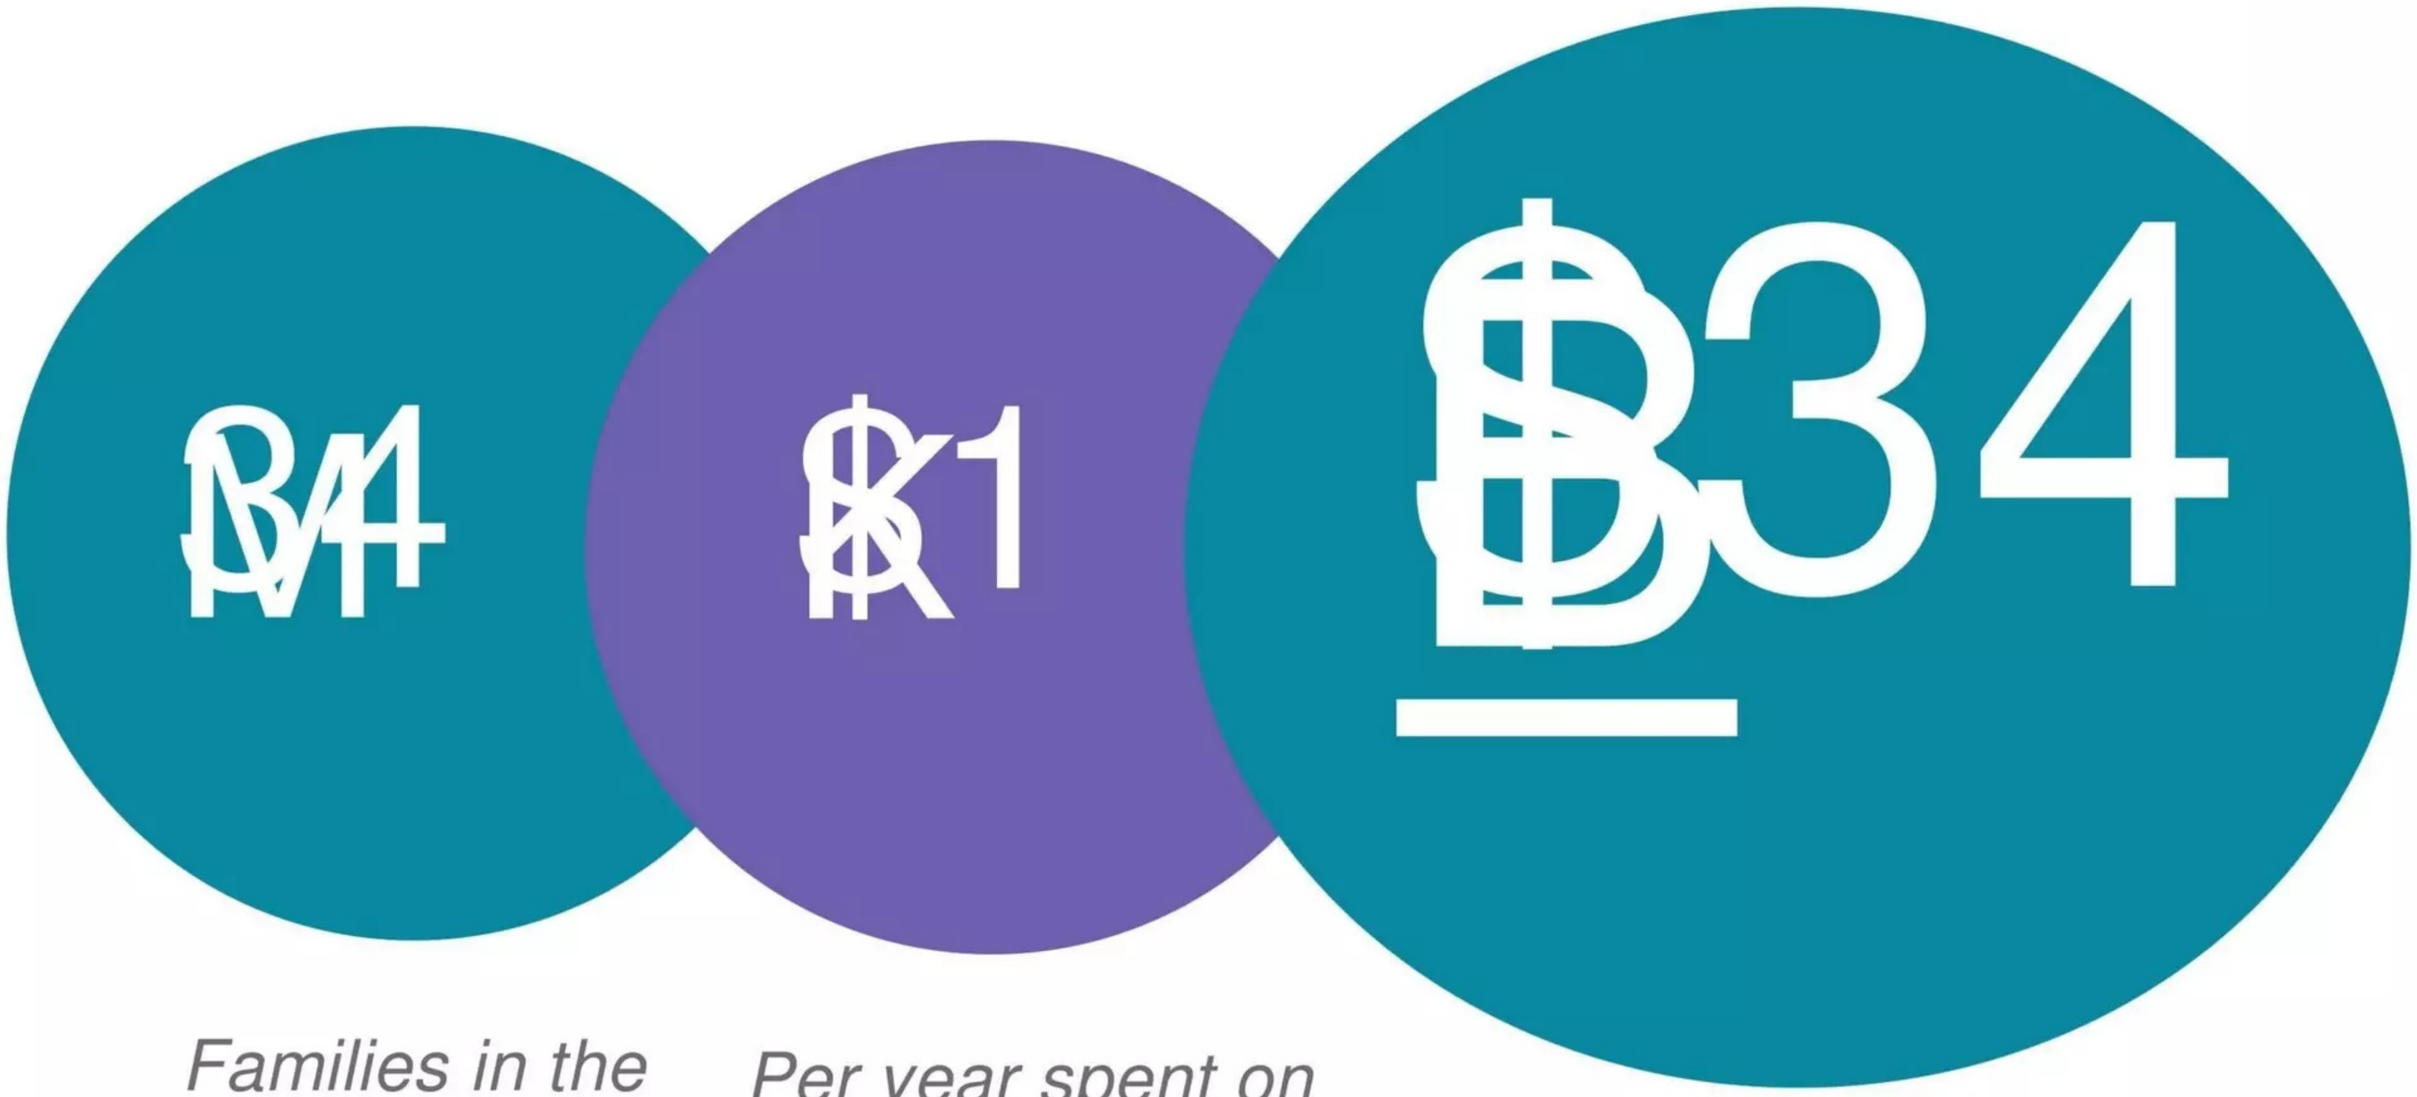

THE PROBLEM

liz@nanno.com

THE MARKET

liz@nanno.com

Families in the U.S. with kids

(Source: US Census)

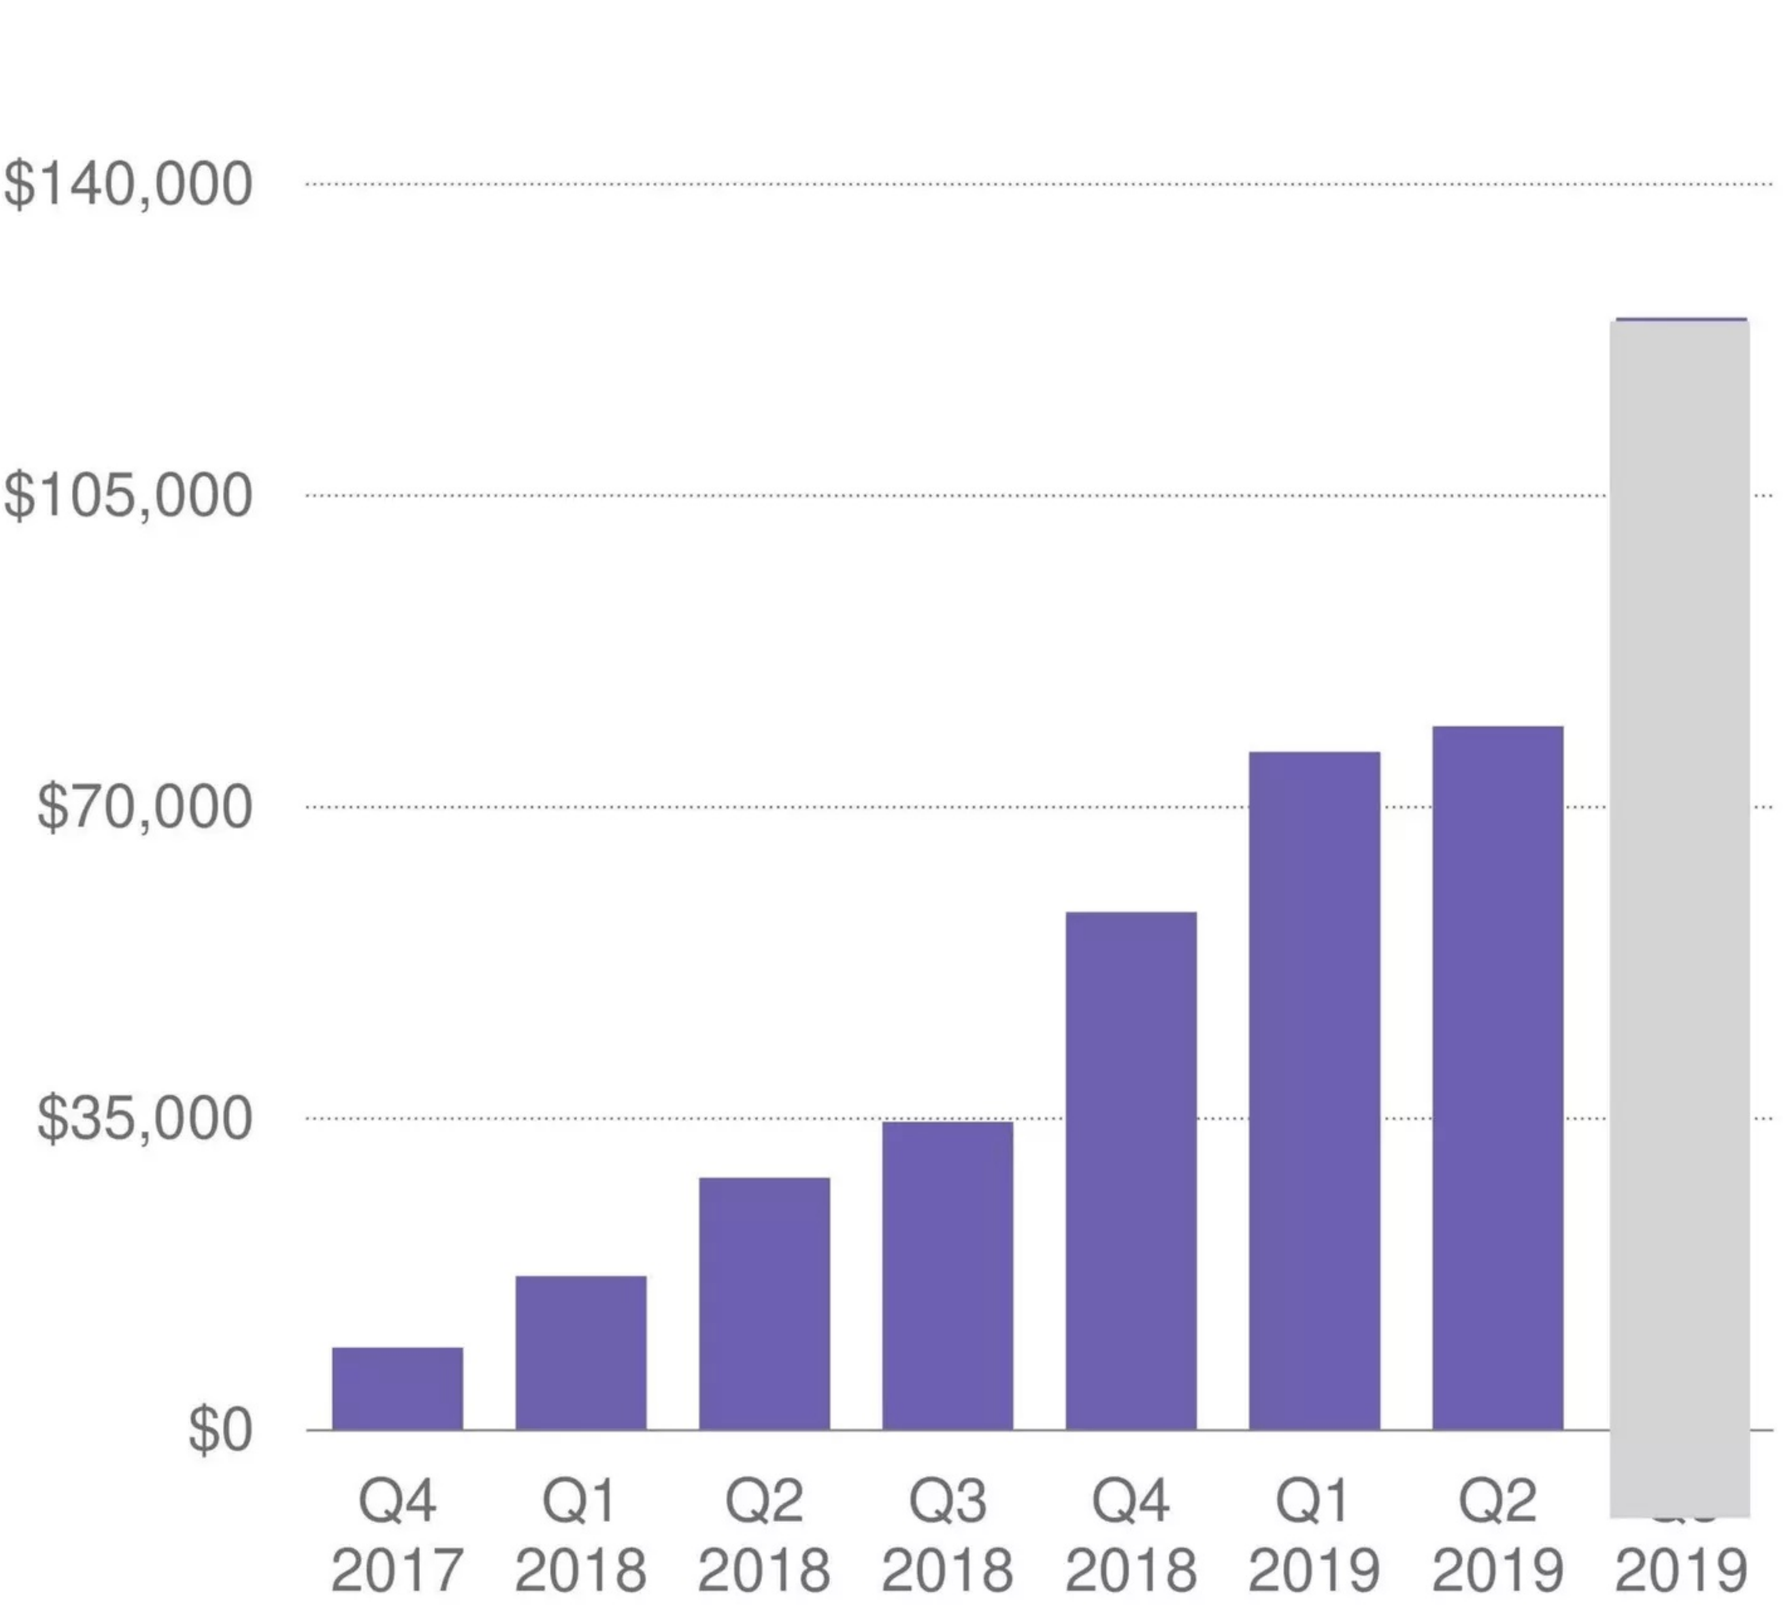

Per year spent on babysitters

(Source: Care.com Babysitter Survey)

Compare with the $11 billion taxi and limousine market before Uber. (IBISWorld)

TRACTION: QUARTERLY GMV

liz@nanno.com

$350K
in GMV

1500
Users

45
States

liz@nanno.com

FAST & SIMPLE BOOKIN

G 90% of Booking Requests Filled within 15 minutes

BUILDING TRUST AT SCALE

- Comprehensive Criminal Background Check
- Safety Skills Test
- Psychometric Behavioral Test

2 Provisional Patent Applications Filed

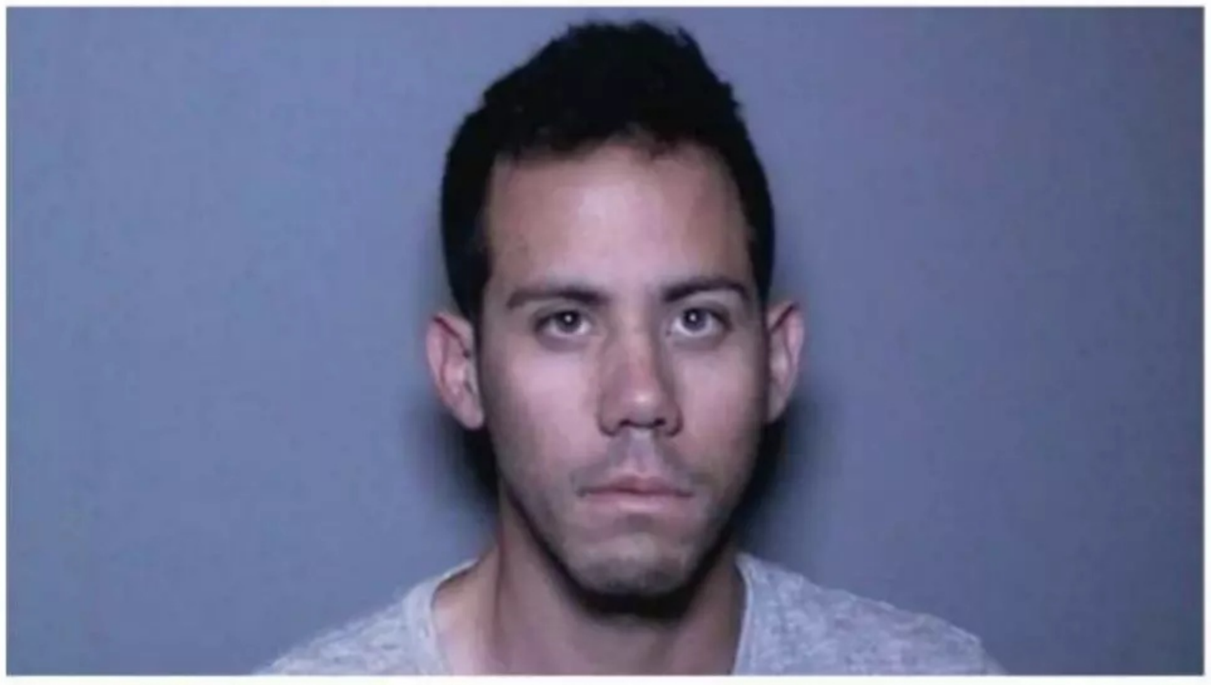

COMPETITION

urbansitter

Los Angeles Times

CALIFORNIA

O.C. man who sold himself as a 'manny' accused of molesting four more boys in his care

Matthew Antonio Zakrzewski, 30, was charged with lewd and lascivious acts with a minor. (Orange County district attorney's office)

By JULIA SCLAFANI, DORANY PINEDA MAY 23, 2019 | 6:55 AM

Laguna Beach police said Thursday that they've identified four more children who may have been abused by a Costa Mesa man who was charged this week with sexually assaulting two boys while babysitting them.

Authorities are also vetting 16 voicemails they received overnight after the arrest of

COMPETITION

Sittercity

The New York Times

N.Y. / REGION

Baby Sitter Is Charged With Sexual Abuse of 3 Boys

By AL BAKER MAY 8, 2009

A college sophomore who worked as a nanny and baby sitter for more than 20 families in and around New York City has been charged with sexually abusing three boys from Manhattan, officials said on Friday.

The man, Jonathan Then, 21, a student at Hunter College, was ordered held without bail after his arraignment in Manhattan Criminal Court on Friday on sexual abuse, predatory sexual assault and other charges, the authorities said.

But the case is "far from over," a prosecutor, Rachel Ferrari, said in court. The police asked anyone with information about the case to come forward.

"We have learned that the defendant has been a live-in nanny and baby sitter for more than 20 families throughout Manhattan, Brooklyn and New Jersey, and that number is growing," according to a statement Ms. Ferrari read in court. "Each family we have spoken to has given us names of other families who hired the defendant and whose homes the defendant has been in."

COMPETITION

Care.com

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Care.com Puts Onus on Families to Check Caregivers' Backgrounds—With Sometimes Tragic Outcomes

The largest online marketplace for such services says its members are responsible for ensuring background checks are performed

Twins Elyssa and Elijah drowned at an unlicensed in-home day-care facility registered on Care.com.
WIEAND FAMILY

By Kirsten Grind, Gregory Zuckerman and Shane Shifflett

March 8, 2019 6:35 pm ET

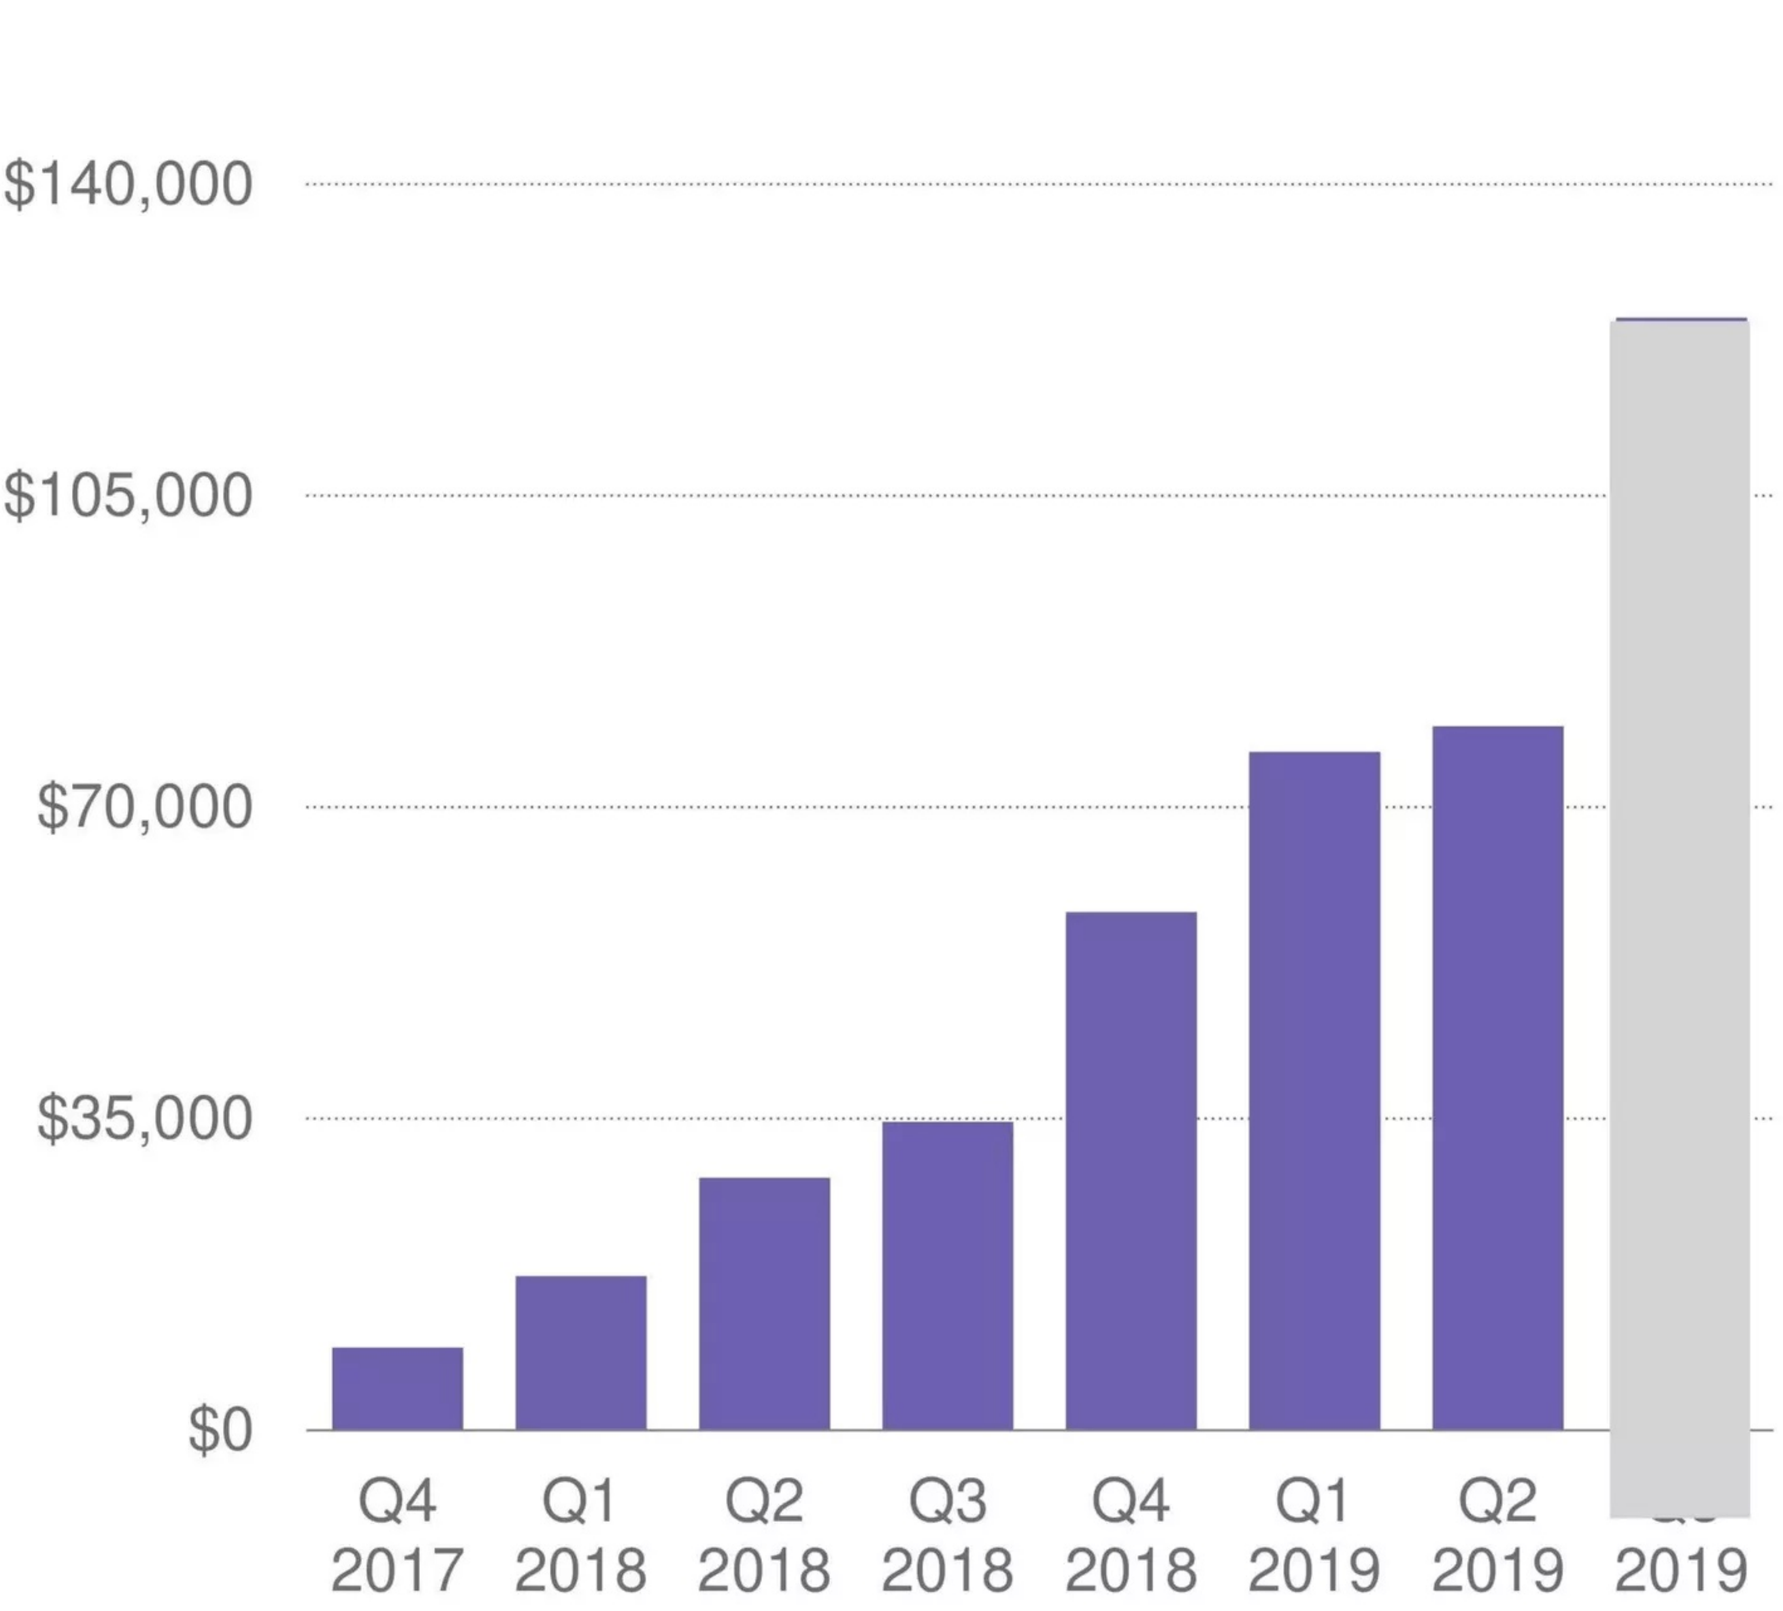

On a warm July morning last year, Amelia Wieand left her twin toddlers at an in-home day-care center outside Knoxville, Tenn. She had read about the facility on Care.com, the largest online marketplace for babysitters and other caregivers.

The listing said the center was state-licensed. It wasn't, state records say. In fact, after receiving reports that the woman who ran it was watching up to 11 children, a state agency had obtained an injunction two months earlier barring her from operating an unlicensed facility.

None of that was available to Care.com members such as Ms. Wieand. At one point, the day-care center indicated to clients there was a problem with its license, but assured Ms. Weiand and other parents it was taking care of the matter.

TRACTION: QUARTERLY GMV

liz@nanno.com

$350K
in GMV

1500
Users

45
States

FOUNDING TEAM

liz@nanno.com

Liz Oertle, CEO & Co-Founder

- JD, University of Michigan Law
- Startup Lawyer
- Mother of two

Desi McAdam, CTO/COO & Co-Founder

- BS, Georgia Tech
- Software Developer & Consultant
- Mother of two

nanno

connecting parents with great sitters on demand

liz@nanno.com