SIMPLIFYING THE STUDENT LOAN REPAYMENT PROCESS

THE PROBLEM

Student loans are the second largest source of debt in the United States

1.6 trillion

Outstanding student loan debt

44 million

Student loan borrowers in the US

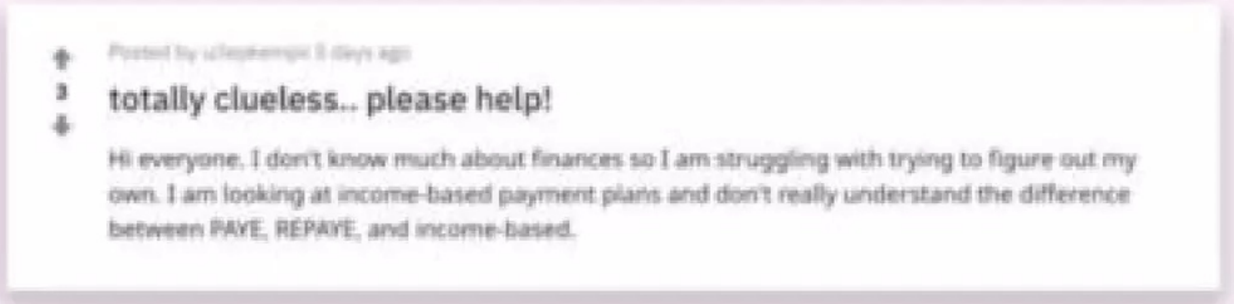

9% growth

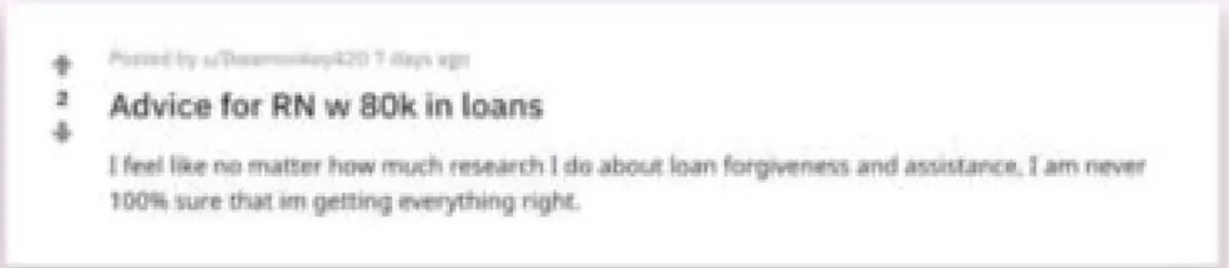

Year-over-year

Managing student loan debt is a struggle

Student loan repayment is

- Difficult to understand
- Easy to get wrong
- Time-consuming to manage

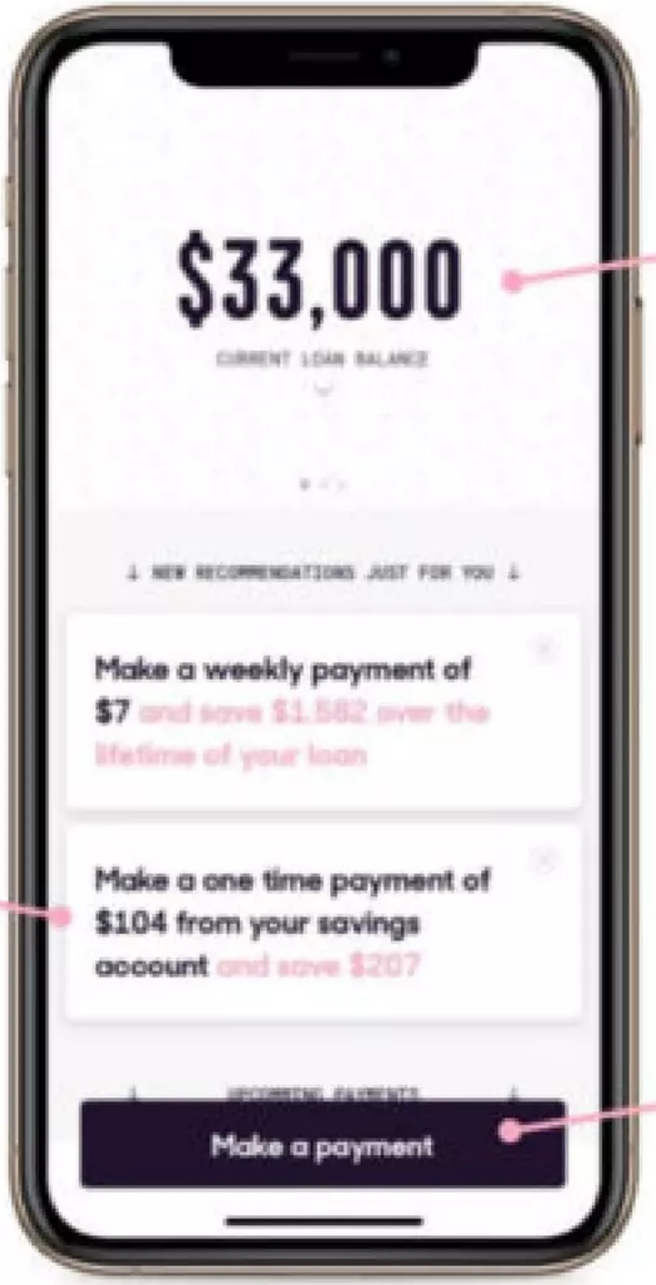

Pillar gives people confidence they're paying back their student loans the right way.

THE SOLUTION

Pillar helps users manage their student loans

Personalized recommendations

Based on users' income, spending, and loan information.

Easy access to the most important information

Swipeable cards show relevant information users need. They update each time a user reaches a milestone.

Simple payment flow

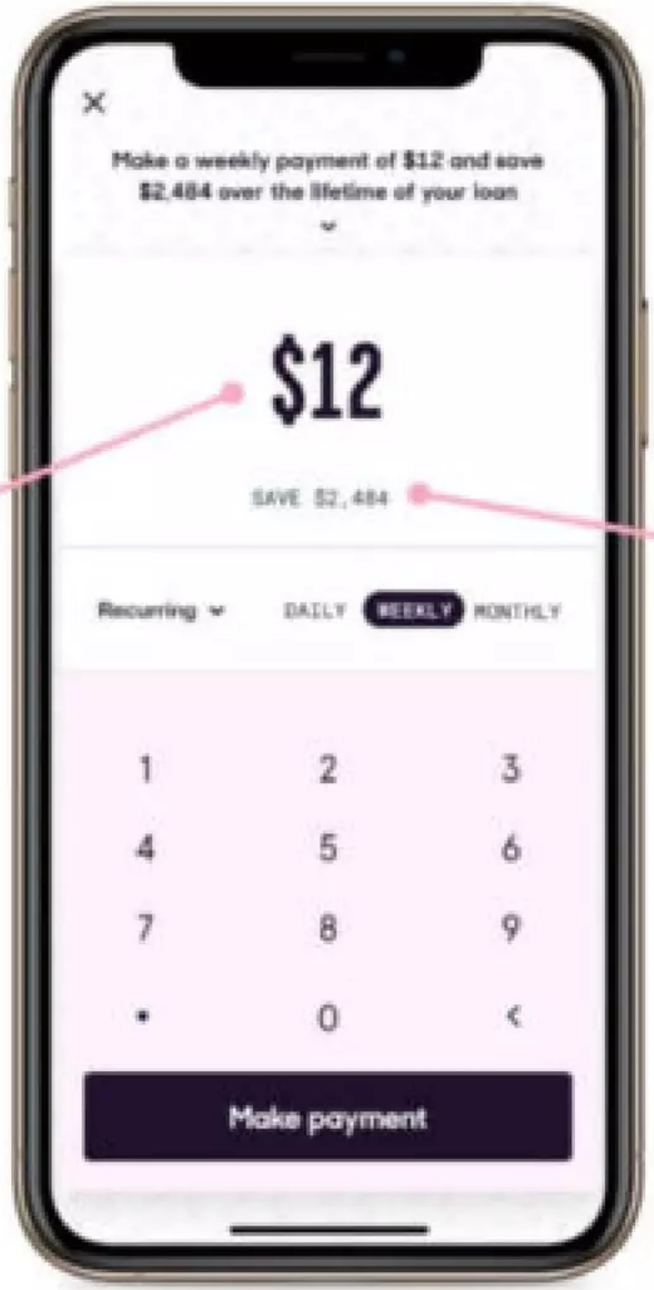

Users can make payments through Pillar instead of their student loan servicer.

THE SOLUTION

Our advice helps users save money

Total user control

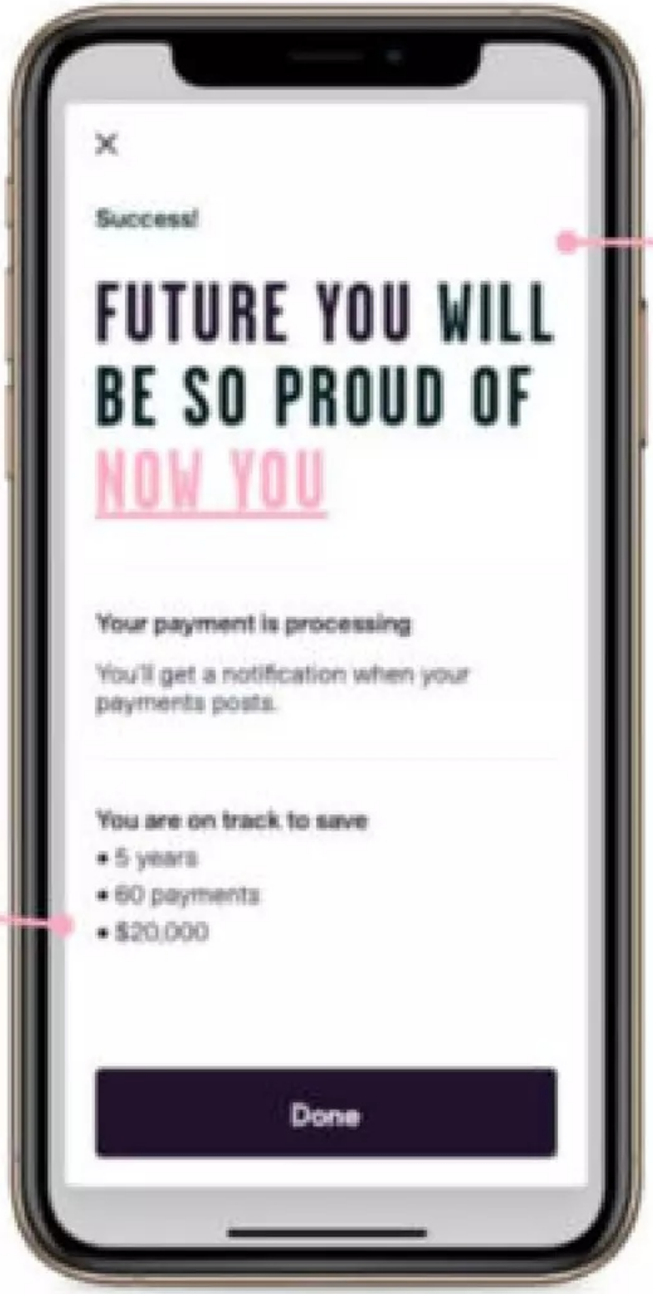

Users accept recommendations or create their own payments. They control the amount, frequency, and timing.

Focus on the impact

Pillar always reminds users of the benefits of their payments. We do the math for them, helping them realize that small contributions can make a big difference over time.

We give users confidence in their financial future

Optimistic interface & friendly language

Our voice & tone is encouraging and optimistic. We use natural human language rather than the jargon of the industry.

Pillar clearly shows how actions impact loan repayment.

Achievable, incremental milestones help the user maintain momentum.

Pillar is different than any other product on the market
